Field trip report to Balpakram National Park, South Garo hills, Meghalaya, April 2023

Field trips are designed to enhance the educational experience for all the students and provide the students with an opportunity to learn outside the classroom. The department of Zoology organized a field trip as part of the syllabus for the 6th semester Zoology honours students on the 14th and 15th of April 2023. The trip was taken by bus on the 14th of April 2023. A total of 17 students participated in the trip, who were escorted by two teachers from the department along with two lab bearers. On the 15th, the students and the escorts walked through a stretch of 10 kms, noting the vegetation, habitat and ecological diversity of the place. Although there was no animal sighting, students were made aware of the existence of different animals such as marbled cat, barking deer, red panda, Indian elephant and wild water buffalo by a guide. He explained that animals could be sighted only in the evenings, and was not safe for people visiting the park. After having spent two nights and a day at a guest house near the park, all returned to Tura on the 16th Of April, 2023.

RELEVANCE TO THE CURRICULUM

The purpose of the trip having fulfilled, the students have gained more understanding and comprehension of the importance of biodiversity of the national park and in situ conservation of wildlife.

The trip is a part of Zoology practical syllabus for final semester and carries 2 marks. The students were asked to submit a field report on the trip, for which the marks were allotted during the practical examination.
