STUDY TOUR CUM EXPOSURE TRIP REPORT TO MUMBAI AND GOA-2019

Field trips are exciting educational opportunities for students and teachers alike. They are designed to enhance the educational experience for all the students and provide the students with an opportunity to learn outside the classroom.

The trip to Mumbai started on the 6th January, 2019 by train and we reached Mumbai on the 8th of January. The main aim of the visit was to study the different types of marine and fresh water species and visit other important historical and educational sites. On the 12th we continued our journey to Goa, again with a purpose of studying the marine fishes found in abundance there. The return journey was on the 15th of January and we reached Tura on 18th January, 2019.

PLACES VISITED

MUMBAI

a. Chatrapati Shivaji Maharaj Vastru Sangrahalaya
b. India Gate
c. Taraporewala Aquarium
d. Nehru Science Centre
e. Sanjay National Park
f. Kanheri caves

GOA

a. Old Goa.
b. Archaeological Museum:
c. Dolphin Safari at Synquerim Beach
d. Mapusa fish market

RELEVANCE TO THE CURRICULUM

The purpose of the trip having fulfilled, the students have gained more understanding and comprehension of the marine and coastal ecosystems, the different species inhabiting them along with their features and morphological characters. Though not having seen the animals in their life forms, the study of the taxidermy animals in the museum has greatly enriched their knowledge of the faunal diversity in the animal kingdom.

The trip is a part of Zoology practical syllabus for final semester and carries 2 marks. The students were asked to submit a field report on the trip, for which the marks were allotted during the practical examination.
